

THE DINING PROJECT

During the exhibition period, Lee Mingwei or one of the museum's staff members will take on the role of host, holding a dinner on The Dining Project stage for one guest only. Interested parties are asked to write their names and contact details on a lottery slip. Those whose names are drawn will be invited to a meal prepared by the host specifically for this particular person. One is naturally slightly nervous when speaking to someone they are meeting for the first time, but with the host using food as a medium for trust and intimacy, there will no doubt be plenty of conversational topics—food, art, or even oneself—exchanged between two people during this special encounter.
